Overview

Gain the skills to become a trained bricklayer!

These skills will mean you can work on housing sites, city developments, domestic extensions like conservatories - and on new buildings, conversions and repairs.

As a bricklayer you might want the security of site work - but you could also start your own business.

Your journey starts here!

What you'll learn

On the Level 1 course in Brickwork, you'll develop practical skills and learn about subjects including:

- Brickwork, blockwork, brick bonds
- How to read building drawings
- Technical drawing
- Foundations
- Calculating materials
- Estimating
- Communications in construction

Assessments / Exams

- Ongoing practical assessments
- Tests for each 'unit' subject
- An end-of-year online exam

What this course leads to

Your Level 1 Diploma will lead you into the Level 2 year.

Following on from Level 2, you can enter the trade, building evidence of work completed. This will help you in progressing towards a recognised Level 2 NVQ award.
