Overview

This course incorporates sequencing, performing & creative composition processes and aims to develop broad skills to create an all-round 21st-century musician.

The course focuses on developing a wide range of knowledge and skills and includes exploring different ways of working in various musical styles, creating material and sequencing techniques as well as planning a creative career.

Much of the course involves practical explorations and public performances alongside project-based work, as well as building a personal portfolio.

What you'll learn

On this course, you will learn:

- Using Musical Styles
- Creating Musical Material
- Performing as an Ensemble

- Planning a Career in the Industry

You will study in a creatively rich environment within our College for the Performing Arts, Music & Technical Theatre. You will also have access to rehearsal and performance spaces.

You will work collaboratively with other students on productions at a range of venues, and you will have the opportunity to create your own vibrant and innovative pieces.

Assessments / Exams

You will be assessed through practical rehearsals and performances, written documents and presentations.

Entry requirements

You will need to have GCSE Maths, English Language and two additional subjects at grade 4 (C) or above.

As part of the application process you will also be asked to explain why you want to study this course, so that we can ensure any course offer made aligns to your career goals.

Links with employers

There are a range of trips and workshops with industry professionals and stakeholders.
